City envisions local PRC campus extension

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

A proposal for the city to provide a facility to create a Bay St. Louis located Pearl River Community College campus extension was approved by council members.

The agreement requires the college to staff and equip classes in nursing and business technology for the convenience of local residents.

Clerk of council Mike Cuevas said this would be the beginning of what is envisioned as a Bay St. Louis campus and future extension of accredited courses.

Cuevas added within a few weeks the city would have more information available as to a proposed location.

She said the agreement between the city and the college is the first official step in the planning stage.

BLUE MEADOW/HWY. 90
City acceptance of future maintenance of Blue Meadow Road from Highway 90 to Casino Magic Drive was approved by council members.

Mayor Eddie Favre explained city maintenance acceptance of the road portion relieves the city from having to meet state aid road requirements on lane and shoulder sizes.

INAUGURATION

The inauguration of city officials was set for 11 a.m. Saturday, June 26 at the Bay St. Louis City Hall shoo-fly.

City attorney John Seafide said the city's officials could set the inauguration date anytime prior to July 5, which was the day official assumption of duties began.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business the council approved Charlene Rutledge as deputy municipal clerk through June 30.

They accepted all privilege licenses through May 17; the budget report, general — $2,164,086, utilities — $2,083,933; letter bids for mis-

AG ruling prohibits city revenue offer

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The City of Bay St. Louis cannot directly give $300,000 to the Bay-Waveland School District from gaming revenues received.

An attorney general's opinion stated gaming monies from boarding fees and license taxes must be deposited into the general fund of the municipality and cannot be designated elsewhere.

Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre said the city would find another way to give the monies to the school district.

He said aside from amending the local and private legislation created for the city's designation of gaming revenues, a local agreement could be reached with the school system, or the casino agreement with the city could be altered for direct issuance of a check by the casino to the district.

"This will not affect the intentions of the council," Favre stated.

Superintendent Paul Tisdale reported, "The school board and I wish to do all we can to facilitate the transfer of these monies, as long as it is legal."

Wednesday, the Bay St. Louis City Council voted unanimously to make the $300,000 gaming revenues offer to the school district permanent.

Ward 1 councilman Charles Scianna asked prior to the vote if the council should not wait until the district received the attorney general's opinion concerning the legality of the offer prior to taking action.

Mayor Eddie Favre said the opinion would only affect how the monies would be given, not whether they would be given.

POA sets recall election

BY LIZ HAAS

Friday, the Diamondhead Property Owners Association (POA) board of directors set a July 14 recall election of the board as requested by almost 400 petitioners of the association.

Members of the POA signed a petition that was presented to the board April 29 calling for a recall vote on the board of directors over disagreements with the leadership.

"We have problems with the fact that they do not bring the people into consideration in their actions—they act totally independent of the membership and show lack of fiscal responsibility," said Charlie Bannister, who is running as president on the opposing slate.

"The main things we want to do are to bring the people more into the picture and have their input in everything the board does."

"We will ask for help and expect it because we're not going to do everything ourselves," said Bannister.

Members of the POA are disgruntled with the present leadership of the association citing reasons as fee raises and being closed off from having input in association decisions, according to petitioner Roger Urbano.

"The board was operating without any input of the membership since it took office in June of last year," he said.

"We are particularly upset with the way they are spending the money," he said, "They feel like it is their money, not ours."

Urbano cited the golf course controversy as an example of how the membership's opinion is not considered in board decisions.

The board entered into a $490,000 contract to rebuild the Pines golf course in Diamondhead.

"That was a large expenditure and we wanted our opinion to be considered in the matter, but were ignored," said Urbano.

"We had 350-400 signatures

Smith addresses state's tourism

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

George Smith, director of Tourism for the State of Mississippi, addressed members of the Hancock Chamber of Commerce and the Tourism and Gaming Association Friday on consolidation of tourism.

During the Chamber sponsored Morning Edition, Smith said, "This is exciting time for tourism in the state of Mississippi."

He spoke of receiving $5 million from the state legislature for the promotion of tourism, and of the benefits of recent staff increases for his office as well as at the state's Welcome Centers.

Smith reported that the gaming industry will spend an estimated $30 million across the country promoting Mississippi this year.

He said it was important for tourism groups to work together and place an emphasis on selling the entirety of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Smith said, "You need to look at the Gulf Coast as one entity

Aldermen eye Waveland Avenue name change

BY LIZ HAAS

Waveland city officials will consider re-naming Waveland Avenue at the request of the Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray American Legion Post 77.

Spokesman Herman Yarborough asked Mayor Stella Frilot and the board of aldermen Wednesday to consider changing the name of that portion of Waveland Avenue from Central Avenue to Beach Boulevard to Elwood Bourgeois Memorial

Boulevard who gave his life in combat in World War II and still has family members residing in Waveland.

"We feel very strongly that the name change of that street is appropriate, and we urge you formal request from the legion. Yarborough said Bourgeois was born and raised on that part of Waveland Avenue.

The board decided to take the request under advisement and to send a letter to residents of that area.

"When we get the residents' response, we will get back with you," said Frilot.

The board approved penalties for violation of the taxi cab ordinance, effective immediately.

The ordinance, approved last November for the general regulations of vehicles for hire, has been without penalties since its adoption.

Board attorney Lucien Gex suggested the board approve a penalty of imprisonment for up to 10 days and a fine of up to $200 for the first offense of any violation of this ordinance. Each day is considered as a separate offense.

"This will give a judge the discretion," said Gex.

The board heard from Alderman Stan Weidman concerning the lot next to Little Zion Baptist Church on the corner of Baker and Central avenues.

Weidman said the grass is high and is a traffic hazard. In the past the city has cut this grass, but has failed to do so recently.

"I request the city to get in there and cut down that high grass, and to install culverts that the church is willing to tain contestants from 27 nations for the 44th Annual International Science and Engineering Fair held on the Gulf Coast.

The parade was Tuesday, May 11 and was the first time the local carnival groups staged a parade together. The event may become an annual affair as a fund raiser in the future.

Coordinators for the Krewe of Diamondhead were parade lieutenant Chris Arnos and publicity lieutenant Hilda Bourg.

Members of the krewe who costumed and rode in decorated vintage convertibles were Nell Dennis, Bill Bahner, Billie Bahner and Margaret Arrow. The drivers of the convertibles were Charles Johnson Sr. and Ross Burke.

Other carnival associations from Hancock County that were represented were the Krewe of Real People and the Krewe of Kids. After the parade, everyone was invited to a catfish dinner with the contestants.

Moseley donates artwork

Local artist Alice Moseley presented the City of Bay St. Louis with a gift of her art entitled, "Bay St. Louis and Amtrak Prove That You Can Go Home Again." Friday as her contribution to the restoration of the city's historic depot. The city will have prints made from the original work, with proceeds from the sale used to establish the operations and maintenance fund of the depot property. Reservations for the limited number of prints will be available beginning September 1 for Christmas delivery. The unveiling took place at the depot Friday. Moseley is pictured with the painting and Mayor Eddie Favre. (Echo staff photo by Liz Haas)

Workshops offered for home sewing businesses

By Darlene Underwood
An intensive five-day workshop providing information on home-based sewing businesses will be held July 12-16 at Mississippi State University.

Sponsored by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, Department of Home Economics, the Sewing as a Business workshop is designed for those who have already established, or are interested in establishing, a home-based sewing-related business.

Beth Duncan, home-based and entrepreneurial business specialist with the Extension Service, said "the workshop will focus on developing skills to make sewing businesses professional and profitable."

Home sewing industry educational representatives, along with Extension educators and business professionals will participate on the program.

Specific areas to be covered include business management, marketing directions, current trends, and new technology in the area of sewing. Discussions will touch on business regulations, pricing, bookkeeping, advertising and new products.

For additional information and/or an application, contact Darlene L. Underwood, Extension home economist in Hancock County.

Applications are due by June 7.

ON PATROL

BURGLARY

Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Nathan Hoda reported Friday the arrest of three juveniles for the Thursday burglary of the Pearlington Jr. Food Store.

Hoda said the three males are accused of shooting out the windows of the store around 4 a.m., entering the store and removing cash registers, beer and cigarettes.

"The total inventory missing," he stated, "was about $1,800. We recovered 12 12-pack cartons of beer and two garbage bags of cigarettes."

Hoda added, along with the Pearlington property, recovered were three VCRs and three guns, believed to have been taken during a burglary in Slidell, La.

One of the juveniles is from Picayune and the other two from Slidell, according to Hoda.

Assisting Hoda was Sergeant George Burleson.

Hoda said the sheriff's department worked with the Picayune Police Department and Pearl River Sheriff's office on the arrests. The juveniles were turned over to juvenile court in Hancock County. Hoda added St. Tammany Parish will probably press charges as well.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

This is the time of year all students like to see, as school bells are about to remain silent for three months. This will mean many of our youngsters will be moving about the community to go swimming, fishing, play ball, picnics and many other activities.

I would like to remind our youth about the importance of always paying attention to the immediate hazards which may be in the areas they are.

Traffic has really increased on our roads, and I am sure it will continue as June arrives. There should also be more boat- and water-related activities.

Safety is very important, and it takes attention in whatever we do, whether it is work or play.

I would like for all of our students to have a fun-filled, safe summer vacation.

By the way, do not forget the many activities at our libraries. Drop by or call the library in your area to get particulars — Bay St. Louis, 467-5282; Waveland, 467-9240; and Kiln, 255-1724.

It is good to see the lines going down for the lights on the median along Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis.

This is a much-needed project, and I am sure it will enhance Highway 90.

It has been far too many years in coming, but at last, I cannot wait until the installation is complete and the lights are turned on.

I am told it should not be very long before the job will be completed.

Driving down the beach gives me the itch to go fishing, especially on those mornings when the water is very calm.

I understand some of the waders have been making good catches of speckled trout.

As the water clears, I am sure there will be more waders and boat fishermen trying to land those specks and a red or two.

Nothing is more fun than catching a redfish on light tackle, as they battle every inch of the way.

It will not be long before the Mobile Medic annual subscription drive will be underway.

Mobile Medic has been providing 'top flight' ambulance service in Hancock County for many years.

The Hancock County Supervisors have given Mobile Medic a one-year renewal.

I am sure we will be bringing you more information on the membership renewals and new memberships during the month of June.

Remember, being a member of Mobile Medic could save you hundreds of dollars if ever you need the service.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Thad Cochran

Cochran praises community colleges for accessible, affordable education

U.S. Senator Thad Cochran praised Mississippi's community colleges for the "affordable and accessible education opportunities they provide."

Cochran said, "The community colleges of Mississippi have done an excellent job in providing students with education and training and enriching their lives."

He noted the 15 public community and junior colleges around the state provide educational opportunities for over 71,000 students, about 13,000 more than are enrolled in Mississippi's eight senior colleges. The community college growth rate has been 5.5 percent annually, he said.

Cochran, a member of the Senate Appropriations panel which provides funding for federal education programs, made his comments in 1993 commencement ceremonies at Northwest Community College.

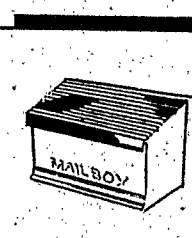

The senator challenged the 370 graduates of Northwest to use their education to help move the state and nation forward.

He pointed to America's worldwide leadership and said, "We have the strongest country in the world, but we need sound thinking and wise leaders to keep it strong and free and full of opportunity."

He urged the Northwest graduates to "be proud of your heritage as community college students. Many thousands of Mississippians have taken advantage of our community colleges to gain access to higher education and go on to achieve outstanding success."

The senator noted that Mississippi's community colleges evolved early this century from local agricultural high schools and the state, with Texas and California, was among those nationally pioneering and developing the system.

During his service in Congress, Cochran has co-authored legislation such as the Rural Health Corps initiative and the Tech-Prep bill targeted to the community college systems.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

County should favor local businesses for contracts

To the Editor,

I was very disappointed to see our county supervisors give Hancock County's mosquito control contract to someone, not only outside our county, but also outside the state.

Considering the confusion over the chemicals on hand with the county and Andy Ewing's willingness to adjust his bid if the chemicals were to be given free to the winning bidder, the bids were very close.

We go to great length in some areas to create jobs in our county, and then turn around and give large ongoing contracts to people outside our state!

Granted, the Louisiana company may hire a few locals, but the company owners and their share of salary and/or profits will most certainly leave our state.

We even go to the trouble to issue industrial revenue bonds to help finance some businesses, and then won't even take a second look at another experienced local business.

Maybe we need to take a second look at our county supervisors come next election!

Food Pantry owes success to residents

Dear Editor,

The Hancock County Food Pantry is beginning its eighth year of operation, due to the support of county residents.

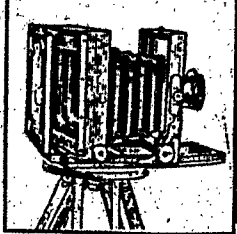

Through February 1993, some 6,502 families have come in for help. The Pantry has fed 20,097 people, mostly children.

As long as there are hungry people, the Pantry will be there to help them.

Thank you, Hancock County! Aileen Sauzer

—Gone are the days of glory for the Louisville and Nashville Railroad's Bay St. Louis train station with diminishing number of trains, now down to two a day each way, and diminishing number of passengers, need for a top notch facility became a little vague, so when roof leaked so badly it became wetter under than on top and all roofing timbers rotted, railroad decided to tear down canopy rather than engage in costly business of repairs. Grace Curry, (in photo) a student at St. Rose, paused on way home yesterday to survey forlorn looking steelwork also being ripped down.

—Construction is to begin in late June on Interstate 10 between the Jourdan and Wolf rivers in Harrison and Hancock counties, according to W.H. (Shag) Pyron, Southern District Highway Commissioner.

purchase," said Weidman. Frilot said, "That is private property that belongs to the church and we, by law, cannot cut the grass on private property; however, we will install the culverts and clean the ditch for the church."

Weidman also addressed the board on a problem on Sears Avenue concerning a resident whose house is located on a 90 degree curve and who has several police reports of cars that have run into his house and garage.

"Police reports verify that this man is credible—accidents are happening, so can't we put up signs or lights?" asked Weidman.

The board agreed to install three new arrow signs between the shoulder and the property boundary indicating a curve is there.

The board heard from Joseph G. Albe, public relations director for Citizens for Better Government in Hancock County, Inc., on the matter of the voter rolls being purged in Waveland. "I request you check to make sure the Municipal Election Commission is doing what they are supposed to do."

"People are on the rolls who are either deceased or have moved away," said Albe. "The reason I request this is because our membership drives are for registered voters only and we want to avoid duplicating letters or sending letters to deceased or unregistered voters," he said.

Noel Phillips, chairman of the commission said, "We have proceeded in this process over the past two months. We are in the process of purging the rolls and will have them completed by the elections."

The board approved: —to ratify a poll vote taken May 11 and 12 authorizing Deborah A. Conrvey to attend Public Employees' Retirement System 1993 Spring Seminar in Gulfport on May 19 at 9 a.m. at Ms. Gulf Coast Community College on Jeff Davis Campus; —ratify poll vote taken May 13 and 14; authorizing concession on Shoney's restaurant for them to pay $1,000 for water, sewer and gas installation, no deposits when they locate next to Dairy Queen on Highway 90; —refund of $35.84 to Joaquin R. Favre reported the city had not notified Bay-Waveland superintendent Paul Tisdale, nor school board members, of the council's intent to make the offer permanent.

Councilman-at-large James Rutherford stated the permanency of the offering was always understood.

Ward 4 councilman Tom Farve commented, "I don't really care if they (school district) know or not."

Tisdale stated, "I appreciate the intent, but I cannot put this district in a position where somewhere down the road, the responsibility to maintain these monies falls on someone else."

"It is my understanding that the council cannot legally obligate the city beyond the term of the council."

Attempts to reach city attorney John Scaife for comment were unsuccessful.

asking the board to hold off on voting on the golf course construction and the vote was 10-1 for it.

"That is not the representation I expect from the board I elected," said Bannister.

The petitioners filed for an injunction against work to the golf course.

Urbano said, "The judge ruled that he couldn't issue an injunction because the contract was already signed."

Construction of the golf course began in the beginning of this week, with estimated completion by the end of August.

"James Persons, POA attorney, was quoted in The Sun Herald as saying 'You do not interfere in someone else's business,' but we're the people paying the bills, so we don't feel that it's someone else's business," said Urbano.

Bannister said the board has considerably reduced the number of open meetings.

"They are not required by law to have open meetings, but they always have until this new board took office," he said. "We have asked for open meetings to have input, but they just cut us off." Urbano said, "We want a board to represent the people and open meetings so people know what's going on and can have input in the decision making process."

The petitioners have developed a new slate to run against the present board which is Charlie Bannister as president, John Stevens as vice president, John Caulkins as treasurer, Jimmie Sandell as secretary, and board members Urbano, Bennie Minstretta (who presently serves on the board), Jean Sullivan, Jessie Danna, Jack Cameron, Ed Rosenhauer and Stu Aegler.

"Our goal is to try to bring this community back as a whole," said Bannister. "We've got too good of a community with wonderful people, and we don't need all this friction," he said. "We need to get this behind us and get back to the kind of community we had at one time."

"We would like to see the relations mended," said Brierly Acker, secretary of the current board of directors.

Chamber to assemble brochure for tourists

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with Casino Magic, is putting together a brochure to showcase area merchants. The brochure will serve as a visitor's guide to Hancock County, and will be divided into the following categories: Accommodations, Restaurants/Lounges, and Shopping. Some 25,000 copies will be printed.

Because of limited space, listings will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis. Each listing will be limited to 50 words, including business name, address and phone number (approx. 3 1/4" wide by 1" long—5 lines total. Cost per listing is $40.

Casino Magic will distribute the brochures. Beginning July 1, they will be given to out-of-state visitors only.

Included in the brochure will be a tear-away registration form for a give-away that Casino Magic will provide.

The registration form will include a sketch of the area with the five major shopping districts noted.

In order to register, each person must visit a shop in three of the five areas and receive a stamp from the merchant.

After this is completed, they must then return the registration tear-away to Casino Magic by July 15, for the drawing to be held July 19 at noon.

Any brochures left over will have the tear-away removed and will be distributed to all visitors the rest of the year.

as far as tourism is concerned."

He added that the individual counties and cities should join in selling the overall destination of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

"If we do not unify, we will never develop the potential we have," Smith commented.

Of the $5 million allotted by the state, $1 million will be offered in grants on a dollar for dollar basis.

Donald Saucier, Hancock County Gaming and Tourism Association president reported his group was in the process of applying for a grant.

Smith indicated there was an additional 10 points for joint applications.

"Today Mississippi has 45,400 tourism jobs and these do not include the 9,000 in gaming. By the end of 1993 there will be over 63,000 tourism related jobs (in the state)," Smith reported.

The council also approved payments of $33,447 to Covington Construction Company for work completed to day, and $600 for engineering fees on the Carroll Avenue-Easterbrook Street sewer improvement project.

From The Family Of Tad Black ... THANK YOU!

I would like to extend my thanks to the voters of Ward 4 and to the special friends throughout the community who supported me during this campaign.

I ask for your continued support and prayers as we work together to move our city into the future.

Memorial Day

Fire up the grill to welcome summer

Memorial Day weekend kicks off the start of summer fun. It's the weekend to take out the grill, clean off the deck furniture and have the first cookout of the year with these recipes.

HOT ARTICHOKE DIP
Bruschetta on the Grill
Grilled Chicken Breasts with Strawberry Butter
Vegetable-Pasta Salad
Lemon-Ricotta Cheesecake

HOT ARTICHOKE DIP
1 can (16 ounces) artichoke hearts, drained
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 cup mayonnaise
4 green onions, chopped
Crackers
Heat oven to 325°. Chop artichoke hearts; mix with remaining ingredients in 1-quart casserole. Cover and bake 10 to 15 minutes or until hot. Serve with crackers.

BRUSCHETTA ON THE GRILL
Bruschetta is an Italian treat. Toasted — or grilled — bread is topped with garlic and olive oil. We've added fresh basil for a taste of summer.
1/2 cup olive oil
2 tablespoons chopped fresh or 2 teaspoons dried basil leaves
2 cloves garlic, crushed
1 loaf French bread (about 12 inches)
Mix oil, basil and garlic in small bowl. Cut bread lengthwise into two pieces. Brush with oil mixture. Grill over medium coals 6 minutes, turning once, until golden brown. Cut into 1/2-inch slices.

GRILLED CHICKEN BREASTS WITH STRAWBERRY BUTTER
1/2 cup orange juice
1/4 cup olive oil
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
10 skinless boneless chicken breast halves (about 5 pounds)

Prepare Strawberry Butter. Mix orange juice, oil, salt and pepper in small bowl. Flatten each chicken breast between pieces of waxed paper to 1/2-inch thickness; place in shallow dish. Add orange juice mixture; cover and refrigerate 1 hour.

Remove chicken from marinade; drain. Grill chicken 5 to 6 inches from medium coals about 10 to 12 minutes, turning once. Serve chicken with Strawberry Butter.
Strawberry Butter
1 cup strawberries
1/2 cup margarine or butter
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
Place all ingredients in blender; cover and blend until mixed. (Mixture will not look smooth.)

VEGETABLE-PASTA SALAD

Blanching vegetables helps to retain their fresh flavor and color. Place vegetables in a wire basket or a blancher, and drop basket into boiling water. Cover and blanch vegetables until just slightly tender. Remove from boiling water and immediately plunge basket into iced water to stop cooking.

1 package (16 ounces) pasta shells, cooked and drained
1 1/2 pounds fresh asparagus, blanched, but into 4-inch pieces
1 pound fresh sugar snap peas, blanched
6 green onions, sliced
1 yellow bell pepper, cut into julienne strips
Lemon Mayonnaise (see below)

Mix all ingredients except Lemon Mayonnaise in large bowl; toss. Stir in Lemon Mayonnaise until well mixed. Cover and refrigerate until ready to serve.

Lemon Mayonnaise
1 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup plain yogurt
1/4 cup lemon juice
2 tablespoons chopped fresh or 2 teaspoons dried tarragon leaves
1/2 teaspoon salt
Mix all ingredients until well blended.

LEMON-RICOTTA CHEESECAKE

Make the cheesecake the night before the barbecue, and remove it from the refrigerator just before serving.

2 1/2 cups gingersnap cookie crumbs (about 40 cookies)
1/2 cup margarine or butter, melted
2 containers (15 ounces each) ricotta cheese
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
2 teaspoons vanilla
4 eggs
Lemon Topping (below)

Heat oven to 325°. Mix together cookie crumbs and margarine; press on bottom and side of springform pan, 10 x 8 inches. Place ricotta cheese in blender or food processor; cover and blend or process until smooth. Stir in remaining ingredients except Lemon Topping. Pour mixture into pan. Bake 1 hour to 1 hour and 15 minutes or until cheesecake is set in center. Let cool. Spoon Lemon Topping over cheesecake and refrigerate at least 4 hours but no longer than 48 hours.

Lemon Topping
2/3 cup water
1/3 cup lemon juice
1/3 cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon grated lemon peel

Mix all ingredients in small saucepan. Cook over low heat, 2 to 4 minutes, stirring frequently, until mixture is thick. Cool slightly before spooning over cheesecake.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Board of Trustees of the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District will hold a public hearing on the school district's 1993-94 budget on June 17, 1993, in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland Board Room, 201 Carroll Avenue, at 7:00 p.m. The purpose of the hearing is to give the citizens of this school district an opportunity to comment on the budget. The hearing is being conducted in compliance with the law as enacted by the 1986 and 1987 legislature sessions.

Layne's celebrates reopening

The recently renovated Layne's Restaurant offers more seating capacity along with its buffet of chicken, fish, vegetables, salads, desserts and yeast rolls. Now offering barbecue ribs, owner Tony Smith declared, "I'll put my barbecue up against anyone's." Layne's, located on Highway 90, one block from the Nicholson Ave./603 intersection, is open seven days a week, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. From left are Hancock Chamber of Commerce ambassador Janelle Kern, chamber director David Treutel, Smith, chamber ambassador Craig Foster, owner Angie Smith, chamber director Basil Kennedy, owner Jerry Smith, chamber ambassador Pat Harville, Waveland Mayor Stella Frilot, Waveland deputy city clerk Arcelyn "Dee" Dastugue, chamber executive director Cindy Vernon and Chuck Benvenutti. COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire Caire

"The only tears you'll shed are tears of joy when you bite into a sweet Vidalia Onion," that's the well-known slogan of the folks in the town of Vidalia, Georgia, and the surrounding countryside, who claim that this world-famed onion is the "sweetest in the world."

They even celebrate this famed onion in true festival fashion at the annual Vidalia Onion Festival each summer, peak harvest time. There are onion-eating contests, as well as cooking contests and games and so on. The Vidalia (VY-DAL-ya) onion derives its sweetness and mild flavor from the soil in and around the town and surrounding counties, a fact which experts say is due to the sulfur content of the soil.

The Vidalia onion's official status is even attested to by a judge's ruling some years ago, to the effect that the only true Vidalia onion is one grown within 30 air miles of the town of Vidalia itself. This ruling, incidentally, put an end to the ongoing battle between four Georgia counties over which grew the original true Vidalia!

And, with the new crop of these tasty onions now available in our local markets, let's enjoy them to the fullest. I like to team them, sliced, in salads with sliced home-grown tomatoes — Creoles when I can get my ever-greedy hands on those Creole tomatoes. I also like to slice Vidalia onions, and add them, along with orange slices and halved strawberries, to a salad of fresh spinach, with a tangy vinaigrette dressing to which I've added a bit of Creole mustard for "zing." And, I like to combine them with honey and seasonings in:

ONIONS GLACES
6 Vidalia onions
2 Tblsp. butter or margarine
1/4 cup honey
1/2 tsp. paprika and of salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
3 Tblsp. water
Halve the onions, and place cut-side up in a casserole dish. Top with the remaining ingredients, cover the casserole, and bake in a pre-heated moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1 1/2 hours, basting with the sauce. This is quite good with ham or pork, especially. (6 servings).
For a slight variation, try:

SAUCY-SWEET ONIONS
3 or 4 sweet Vidalia onions (use 6 onions if smaller)
1/3 cup strained honey
1/4 cup water
3 Tblsp. butter
Arrange onions in a single layer in baking dish. Mix honey and water together, and pour over onions. Dot with butter, cover and bake at 400 degrees for an hour for a tasty side dish. (Copyright, 1993, Katharine D. M. Caire)

Reflections

On Life

By Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Grasp others' interests

"In order to present a true background for the making of the movie, 'The Last of the Mohicans,' cinema producers sought a pristine forest untouched by axes and saws. The idea was to use a forest representative of the 1700s.

"Bristling with the smell of success, they settled on a very rugged, wild, attractive wooded area in North Carolina. To their enormous surprise, they were informed that the particular woods of their choice were only 30 years old."

Thus ran a radio news account of a movie company's foray into the environment. Somewhere in the back of their minds had to be the impression that untouched, pristine forests would not only look the part but in fact be ancient.

So much for the myth that all lumber companies invariably wreck the environment through careless planning, unbridled greed and wanton clearcutting.

Timber management authorities inform us that there is actually more standing timber in the U.S. now than when George Washington was chasing Redcoats through the woods. Of course, this condition of the forests is due to strict reseedling.

"A fascinating incident and overall discussion," I reflected as the news item faded into the background. But when I tried to explore the subject with a car passenger, there was no measurable interest registered in her face or voice.

Worse, she began to remark about her slacks which she prefers to dresses. A bit stunned, I listened quietly while the subjects of conversation sputtered, struggled and wandered around somewhat aimlessly. It was clearly not to my liking.

But how could anyone go wrong by choosing a conversation centered around one of the hottest political issues of the day? Surely, nobody could show disinterest in that. Nonetheless, someone did show zero interest in the news.

By the way, there was nothing new here in this incident; for I had seen too often the many differences and varied interests of women and men. Further, I know this friend too well to expect anything else but that kind of conversation.

Yet, it was far more than merely male/female differences, interests, tastes and pursuits. It was the whole question of who sets the topics and agenda of any conversation.

What I did learn anew was the constant vigilance required to spot the interests and particularly the personal agenda of the person with whom one converses. Our interests rarely coincide with those of anyone else, except in brief spurts.

The next step is the most difficult one for most of us: to be tolerant of the other person's agenda without showing impatience because of it or disdain for it. We have the awful tendency to show displeasure while attempting tolerance.

If the other person perceives this, all communication and conversation are dead before they get underway. Nor is it relevant that my own agenda seems superior to and more sensible than that of the person I am addressing.

Communication and conversation are an abject failure as soon as it becomes clear that the purpose of one party is to establish superiority in academic or social knowledge, in religious or political wisdom, or in any kind of experience.

In line with the overall message of the Good News, communication itself must be a form of well-wishing.

Communicants

Can Pharmacist's discovery help food lovers lose weight?

WASHINGTON — "Depriving yourself of the foods you love to eat is no way to lose weight," says pharmacist Dr. William Morris, Director of National Dietary Research. Food lovers must learn that the secret to meaningful weight loss is not in decreasing the amount of food you eat, but in reducing hidden fats. NDR has introduced a publication and low fat, compact, chewable food tablet that help you to lose weight without giving up all your favorite foods. The publication is free when you purchase FOOD SOURCE ONE, an NDR breakthrough in nutritional weight control. FOODSOURCE ONE is a nutritious and delicious pre-meal snack that can replace the high fat portion of your meals. Although individual weight loss varies, some people are experiencing extra-ordinary results with FOOD SOURCE ONE. A Niagara Falls, New York woman lost 75 pounds without giving up chocolate and pizza which are two of her favorite foods.

Tips On Writing
EFFECTIVE Classified Ads

STICK TO THE FACTS

Prospective buyers need to know details, like the condition of the item for sale, the size, brand name, color and any other relevant information that would help them make a decision.

BE HONEST

Aside from being unethical, exaggerating or misinforming potential buyers won't help you make a sale, and may only serve to lose a prospective buyers' trust. Even if they come to look at what you have to sell, they'll be less likely to buy the item or trust you once they see they've been misled.

SPELL IT OUT

Abbreviations are not easily understood by many people and may even confuse a reader. It only takes them a second to pass over an ad because it doesn't seem clear, why let it be yours because you abbreviated a description?

THE BOTTOM LINE

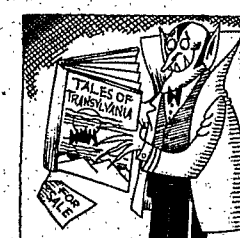

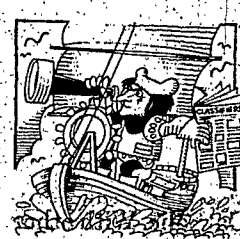

State the price. You'll save yourself the hassle of having to answer calls from prospects who, upon learning the price, are not really interested. Price is the first thing they'll look for when reading your ad, and when prospects know the price, you'll know you have a serious buyer on the line.

BE THERE

List the best hours to call and make sure you're at home. If you don't list a specific time, you could be flooded with calls any time of the day or night. And when you're not at home to take calls, most likely, they won't call back.

ASK US

If you aren't sure how to word your ad or what features to include, why not ask us? Our professionals on staff know how to create an effective ad that sells, they're always willing to help, and there's no charge!

Round trip on the Sunset Limited

Special to the Echo
By Stowe Easton
Pass Christian

The Sunset Limited due Union Passenger Terminal at 7:50 p.m. did not arrive until 11 p.m. due to a fender bender and a child with heart trouble in Beaumont. (Child and mother doing well). Private cars to be coupled to Sunset were moved from siding to track six to be coupled to Sunset upon arrival.

Over the scanner could be heard engineer, conductor and station personnel talking about turning train on wye, backing into station, coupling the two coaches to the rear of the Sunset, detaining crew change, fixing broken equipment and boarding passengers, continuing to Jacksonville and Miami.

Soon the boarding announcement came over the address system. Those continuing rushed through the open door up the platform to their

Settled in bed, listening to rail noises. The train slowed and stopped during the night. Through Bay St. Louis 2:10

via train

assigned car and boarded.

Found sleeping car 230Y, third car from end of train, and bedroom one, where I prepared for bed after departure from station.

a.m., Gulfport 2:29 a.m., Biloxi 2:45 a.m., Pascagoula 3:15 a.m. and Mobile at 5 a.m.

Dressed for beginning of day, breakfast completed by departure from Atmore, Ala. Into Pensacola, Fla. a 15-minute stop, crew change, which would be aboard until we reach Jacksonville, Fla. later in the day.

Breakfast completed, I moved to the double-decker observation coach until lunch call during pass through Chipley into Tallahassee.

Back to observation car at 3:11 p.m., Madison; home of the steam powered cotton gins, through Lake City to Jacksonville, hotel, dinner, call home and bed.

Detained, hailed a cab for the four-mile ride from station to Holiday Inn Hotel, dinner, call home and bed. Up next morning, breakfast, back to desk to see about city tours. Desk clerk said there were no tours, but suggested that I visit The Landing.

Bribed a taxi driver to take me back to station then continuing on to The Landing, where I spent the rest of the day until 4:30 p.m. Taxi, back to station, where I spent the remainder of day until train time at 10:30 p.m.

Waiting for the return of the Sunset Limited, a long freight heading in the direction of Miami. I took some time going through on the main line past Amtrak station. People started arriving at 7 p.m. when the Sanford-Lorton car train flew by on the main line. It contained seven passenger coaches and seven car carriers.

By 10 p.m. passengers with scanners were listening for the arrival of Sunset Limited. By 10:15 p.m. the Sunset Limited was in place at station. Passenger boarding was in progress when the new conductor arrived. Two minutes early the train slowly departed, clearing the station, a sharp "U" turn to the right, thus turning the entire train 90 degrees and heading in the direction of Los Angeles.

During the night we passed through Lake City 11:35 p.m., Madison 12:26 a.m.; Tallahassee 2:02 a.m., Chipley 3:15 a.m., Crestview 5:35 a.m. and Pensacola 6:05 a.m., crew change, where the sun started to rise.

Breakfast completed, I moved from my coach seat to one in the observation car for the remainder of the trip where I could again take pictures.

Mobile, stopped to remove the last private car connected to the train's end. Pascagoula 10:47 a.m., Biloxi 11:12 a.m. Gulfport unknown; Bay St. Louis unknown; through the swamps of Louisiana, finally into Union Passenger Terminal 12:10 p.m.

Heitzmann named Rotary teacher

The Bay-Waveland Rotary Club honored Connie Heitzmann of Bay Catholic School as teacher of the month at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. Heitzmann, who is married to Bob Heitzmann, is a lifelong resident of Bay St. Louis. Her son, Matt, a graduate of St. Stanislaus, attends Pearl River Community College. She is co-owner of the Heitzmann Realty Co.

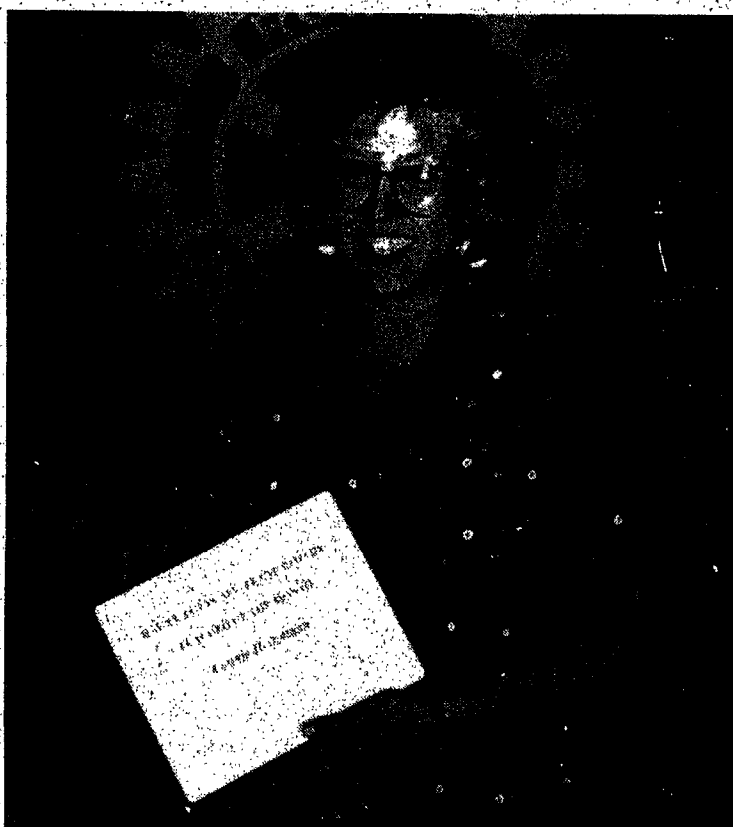

Heitzmann's enthusiasm for her work with the kindergarten class of Bay Catholic has been demonstrated each of her 18 years of teaching. She takes personal interest in each child and provides a great variety of activities for her students through the use of interactive media and volunteer parents, said principal Ann Allen.

She performs with her singing group 'Class of Distinction,' which has produced tapes and albums with Gene Foster at Studio in the Country. Most recently, they welcomed Amtrak to Bay St. Louis.

Heitzmann also has helped to organize and sing in a contemporary choir for Our Lady of the Gulf Church. In addition to her work with school productions she has initiated a 'Peace Project' at Bay Catholic. With other committee members from California, goals include efforts to extend a hand of friendship through communication to countries around the world. A video-letter has been produced by Bay Catholic School and sent to the Mid-East recently for this purpose.

By Donald Mauffray
Veteran's Service Officer

VA claim number identification

By Donald Mauffray, CVSO
Q. Is the VA claim number the same as a veterans Social Security number?

A. A veteran who filed an initial benefit claim before 1974 will have a VA claim number. A veteran who filed after 1974 generally will be identified by his or her Social Security number.

Q. If I am convicted of a felony, will this affect my VA compensation benefits?

A. Yes. Compensation benefits may not be paid in excess of certain amounts for any person incarcerated in a federal, state or local penal institution for conviction of a felony. Beginning on the 61st day of incarceration, veterans rated 20 percent or more are limited to one-half of the 10 percent rate. Dependents may have the right to an apportionment while the beneficiary is incarcerated. Any apportionments will be discontinued and full benefits restored upon release from incarceration, or upon participation in a work-release or halfway house program.

Q. Can a student receive VA educational payments while training for a private pilot's license?

A. No. VA will only pay for training toward a commercial pilot's license.

Q. I am a drilling Reservist with a six-year obligation in effect. I am thinking of enrolling in school, but I will need some remedial training. Can benefits be paid under the Montgomery GI Bill for the Selected Reserve for this type of training?

A. You may be able to receive benefits for remedial, deficiency and refresher courses if you have a six-year obligation that begins after September 30, 1990. The remedial and deficiency courses must be necessary for the pursuit of a program of education.

Q. What is the total maximum benefit payable under the VA tutorial assistance program?

A. $1,200.

MILITARY MENTION

PO3 HOWARD

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Christopher Howard, whose wife, Tunisia, is the daughter of Willie A. McKay of Bay St. Louis, recently reported for duty at Naval Air Station, Sigonella, Italy.

The 1988 graduate of Detroit Northern High School of Detroit, Mich., joined the Navy in August, 1988.

Summer reading program registration begins Tues.

The Hancock County Library System is encouraging young people to follow the trail to good books this summer with its free library program, "Camp-Read-Along."

Children of all ages may pre-register for the program from May 25 to June 5 at any branch library. The reading incentive program and weekly activities will begin the week of June 8. "We are offering a series of quality reading incentive awards and activities designed to assure that children retain their level of reading skills throughout the summer," said Prima Plache, library director.

Upcoming events will include Buttercup the Clown; magic and craft programs; face painting sessions; a presentation by Cherie Schadler and the Bayou Town Puppet group; and a full-scale production entitled, "You and Me and Ecology" by Ronald McDonald.

During pre-registration time, participants can begin reading books, registering for weekly incentive prizes, and setting their reading goals for the summer.

For more information, contact Janice Parrott, Public Services coordinator, at 467-5282.
